

Regenerative Grazing explained with Colin Seis

Lets get back together, on-farm and spend a day with Colin Seis discussing regenerative grazing, cover crops & building soil health.

NEW DATE!

Date: Thursday 22nd April 2021

Where: Kyabram, site location will be emailed after registration.

Time: 10am – 2.30pm

Registration is essential to attend as numbers are limited due to COVIDSafe event requirements.

Please use this link to register

<https://www.trybooking.com/BPUZQ>

For further information please contact Jo

jo@gmln.com.au

Colin will answer all your questions at a local demonstration site that is looking at improving native pastures using different grazing techniques & multi species covers.

The site has been running since July 2019 with the aim of increasing perennial species and improving the soil conditions on the dryland farm.

Monitoring techniques will be demonstrated on the day such as soil sampling, plant species identification and grazing timing.

