2017 FUTURE FARMING EXPO

Discover how you can future-proof your farm business at the fifth annual Future Farming Expo

WEDNESDAY
5 APRIL 2017
9.30AM -3 .00PM

This event is proudly hosted by the North Central and Goulburn Broken Catchment Management Authorities with funding from the Australian Government's National Landcare Programme.

Australian Government | National Landcare Programme

Regional Landcare Facilitator

NORTH CENTRAL Catchment Management Authority
Connecting Rivers, Landscapes, People

GOULBURN BROKEN CATCHMENT MANAGEMENT AUTHORITY

INDUSTRY LEADERS WILL BE SHARING PRACTICAL TIPS AND STRATEGIES TO HELP YOU ACHIEVE YOUR GOALS AND OVERCOME CHALLENGES.

KEYNOTE PRESENTATIONS INCLUDE:

- Data doesn't make money – decisions do! How you can efficiently use new technologies and data in your business.
- Making employment work for you and getting the most out of your team.
- Tips for making informed business decisions and acting on them.

PARTICIPANTS WILL BE ABLE TO SELECT ONE OF FOUR INTERACTIVE WORKSHOP SESSIONS:

1. Setting-up your farming business for current and future generations.
2. Opportunities for agricultural trade and marketing.
3. Boosting water-use efficiency in irrigation enterprises.
4. Uncovering the secrets of climate models and outlooks.

JOIN US!

When: Wednesday 5 April 2017

Time: 9.30 am to 3.00 pm (Lunch included)

Where: Rochester Shire Hall, 45 Mackay Street, Rochester

RSVP: Places are strictly limited, RSVP is essential via: www.eventbrite.com.au/e/2017-future-farming-expo-registration-32309654045 info@nccma.vic.gov.au or 03 5448 7124 (please include any dietary requirements & preferred workshop session).

Cost: There is no cost to you to attend this event, thanks to our wonderful sponsors!

GUEST SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

Mike Stephens,
Meridian Agriculture

Mike is the founder of Meridian Agriculture and has over thirty years' experience in directing, managing and advising small and medium sized businesses. He has developed and directed industry projects, and consulted extensively on succession in business. Meridian Agriculture and its affiliates have a team of twenty consultants plus support staff. He is also the Deputy Chair of National Indigenous Pastoral Enterprises (NIPE) which is one of the largest cattle owners in Australia.

Lyn Sykes,
High Resolutions

Lyn is renowned throughout Australia for her pioneering and innovative approach to facilitating the process of transferring the family farm. This includes encouraging a co-operative process with other professionals. Lyn is passionate about the role of communication in ensuring that our families and businesses remain viable.

Nathan Scott,
Achieve Ag Solutions

Nathan has a background in prime lamb production, and a passion for improving the productivity and profitability of livestock enterprises. He is the leading Australian provider of advice in the practical use of electronic identification within sheep and cattle enterprises. Nathan is based in Geelong, working with individual farmers, producer groups and various industry projects.

This event is proudly hosted by the North Central and Goulburn Broken Catchment Management Authorities with funding from the Australian Government's National Landcare Programme.

Australian Government | National Landcare Programme

Regional Landcare Facilitator

NORTH CENTRAL Catchment Management Authority
Connecting Rivers, Landscapes, People

GOULBURN BROKEN CATCHMENT MANAGEMENT AUTHORITY