

Outstanding in the Paddock: Celebrating paddock trees

Monday
21 October 2019
9.15am - 3.00pm

Eastbank Centre
70 Welsford St
Shepparton

A forum not to be missed:

- Showcasing the science and value of paddock trees (scattered trees)
- Celebrating the Year of the Paddock Tree (#YPT)
- Presentation of #YPT photography competition award winners
- Celebrating Biodiversity Month

Catering provided, BYO water bottles

All are welcome at this free event but RSVP is essential as space is limited.

Please RSVP by 14 October 2019 to reception@gbcma.vic.gov.au

For enquiries please contact Bek Caldwell, Goulburn Broken CMA on (03) 5822 7700

Presenters:

Professor Saul Cunningham

Australian National University
Fenner School of Environment & Society

Creating our future rural landscapes

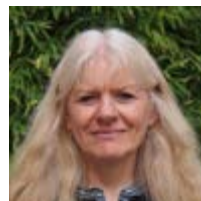

Professor Stefan Arndt

The University of Melbourne
Eucalypt Drought Mortality

Professor Andrew Bennett

Arthur Rylah Institute DELWP & La Trobe University
Paddock trees and landscape-scale conservation

Dr Lindy Lumsden

Arthur Rylah Institute DELWP
Bats and paddock trees

Sophie Cunningham

Writer & editor
City of Trees

David Smith

Australian National University
Fenner School of Environment & Society
Woodland communities

Presenters and topics may be subject to change

Parking

The best off-street parking is on the Goulburn River side of Eastbank, accessed from Marungi Street.

